

Introducing WoofWorks Home Entertainment System (WHES)

Say goodbye to clunky consoles and slow-loading PC setups, as WHES offers a seamless solution that brings the best of both worlds right into your home.

Powered by Quantum OS by WoofTech, WHES runs Steam pre-installed with Proton for effortless gaming on Linux. This means you can enjoy an extensive library of games without breaking the bank on high-end hardware!

But what truly sets the WHES apart from other systems on the market is its incredible customization and upgradeability. Constructed using readily available PC components, YOU are in control of your gaming experience – whether that's boosting performance with a top-tier graphics card or crafting a sleek, stylish design to suit your taste.

Are you a console gamer looking for something more? Or perhaps a PC gamer seeking an easy way to game in the living room without sacrificing power? The WHES is the answer you've been barking for!
